Arthur Wheaton Passes After Lengthy Illness

Following an illness from which he has suffered for the past twelve years, and which was brought on by a stroke, Arthur Gordon Wheaton passed away on Saturday morning last at his home just south of town. He was 66 years of age.

The late Mr. Wheaton, who was born at Sackville, N.B., came west in the early days of our town, and settled here some 29 years ago.

After residing on the Martin farm for some time, the family moved to the farm which he has occupied ever since, and which became known to all and sundry as the Wheaton dairy farm.

Since suffering from his first heart attack, he has had a recurrence of the trouble, and has spent some time in hospital at different periods, but has been lying sick at his home for a long time before his death.

For many years he conducted a milk and dairying business for town, and later his son Wallace (an only child) carried on the business, owing to his father's illness.

The funeral, which took place yesterday (Tues.), was conducted by Rev. L. Brabant, rector of St. Thomas (Ang.) church, the building being crowded to capacity with sympathizing friends.

Following the church rites, interment was made at Wainwright cemetery, where the brethren of the local Masonic lodge paid their last respects by conducting the funeral peculiar to that Order, of which the deceased had been a member for many years. He was also a Veteran member and a Past Grand of Wainwright Lodge No. 45, of the Independent Order of Odd Fellows.

Pall-bearers were Masonic brothers in the persons of R. Snyder, W. Washburn, G. Graham, L. Baxter, E. Peterson and W. Lyle, and McLeod's funeral parlors carried out the arrangements.

ANN WATT

Ann Watt's lovely voice has been heard on many CBC Vancouver programmes. She is currently scheduled in a Recital series on Mondays at 2:00 p.m. MDT, over station CBK Wainwright and other stations of the western network.

Red Cross Profits By Excellent Concert

A most enjoyable evening was given on Friday last by the pupils of the Wainwright Public School in the Separate School auditorium.

The program consisted of a cantata, tumbling, pyramid, and a sale of handicraft. The cantata entitled "Rip Van Winkle", was presented in a very beautiful setting. The old tavern the mountainous background, the large rocks and the quaint costumes; coupled with the sweet voices of the children singing in chorus with two-part harmony, was quite delightful.

The tumbling display was very enjoyable. The clown, Jimmy Robinson, kept the audience laughing with his capers. The boys performed their dives and flips with fine timing to piano accompaniment.

A group of fourteen boys and girls built a series of pyramids which displayed a fine bit of team-work and must have been the result of long preparation. They culminated with a very fine "squash", at the top of which was little Alicia Witke with her head touching the ceiling.

The piano accompaniment for the whole program was provided by Allan Boomer, a Grade IX boy, who certainly gives promise of becoming a very fine pianist.

Mr. Reynolds was in his usual good form at the Auction. The receipts from this portion of the evening amounted to $24.17. Much fine work was displayed and the articles were snapped up quickly by eager bidders.

The total receipts amounted to $112.27. This should swell the treasury of the local Red Cross considerably after expenses have been paid.

War Prisoners To Work In Beet Fields

According to advices from Lethbridge, Mr. A. E. Russell, who is acting for the Dominion department of labor, has announced that prisoners of war will start working in the sugar beet fields of southern Alberta this week.

He said the plan presented to federal authorities earlier in the week for employing prisoners of war in the beet fields has received the approval of both the department of labor and the department of national defence.

The men will be employed in beet fields in working parties of ten, putting in an eight hour day. They will be transported in trucks from their camp at the beet fields in the morning and be returned in the evening.

A proper guard will be maintained at all times, Mr. Russell said.

If conditions are suitable, the first convoy of two working parties will go to work in the fields of the Raymond district, 25 miles south of Lethbridge. More parties will go to work as the labor is required.

Cannot "Save Up" Meat Ration Coupons

OTTAWA—A prices board spokesman said that consumers will not be permitted to "save up" meat rationing coupons when such rationing is in effect in Canada. He said the coupons will carry expiry dates. They must be used within the stated periods, and cannot be accumulated for use later, he added.

Memorial Service For Late Sgt. Collett

St. Thomas' Anglican Church at Wainwright was the scene of an impressive memorial service to Sgt. Gunner J. H. Collett, R.C.A.F., who was killed in action on May 12th, and buried at Stratford-on-Avon, Warwickshire, England.

The deceased's wife Mrs. J. H. Collett, her parents Mr. and Mrs. Kinghorn of Wainwright, Sgt. J. H. S. Collett, R.C.M.P. and Mrs. Collett and Betty, his father, mother and sister were all present. His brother Sgt. Gnr. Jack Collett is still on service with the R.C.A.F. in England.

The many friends of the dead airman, who completed his education in Wainwright where his father, Sgt. J. H. C. Collett was in charge of the local detachment of the R.C.M.P., crowded the church to capacity. Superintendent E. W. Radcliffe (uncle) and several N.C.O.'s and men of the R.C.M.P., members of the present army in training, Canadian Legion, and R.C.N. Sea Cadets were present to pay tribute to a comrade who had given his all.

The service was conducted by the Rev. L. A. Brabant, Vicar of St. Thomas' and Flt. Lieut. Swan, Chaplain to the No. 3 Manning Depot, R.C.A.F., in Edmonton.

The latter chose for his text the words of St. John "This is the victory that overcometh the world, even our Faith." He gave a message both inspiring and triumphant, but full of consolation for those who mourned.

He showed how faith can triumph over all adversity. He mentioned the faith of many of our fighting men who implicitly believe "God reigns, God rules; all is well." His quotation from the Bishop of Bradford's message to those who have lost a son was very moving, and pointed out how God feels for such, since He Himself gave His own Son voluntarily to die, that through His sacrifice man's salvation might be obtained.

Death was not the end, he said, because something better must come through the sacrifice of our men.

The sanctuary was beautiful with flowers presented by the deceased's wife and parents.

The whole service was in keeping with Empire Day, and special prayers for the Empire and the Armed Forces were included. —M.C.

Butchers Have Role In Success of Plan

Co-operation means much to meat rationing

The merchants in Canada who sell meat will be a factor in the success of the forthcoming rationing plan according to Wartime Prices and Trade Board officials. The butcher who sells meat and collects coupons should know all the answers and be in a position to help housewives figure out the ration system it was emphasized. In stores selling other commodities it will mean double the number of coupons to collect every week.

For retailers, dealing entirely in meat, meat rationing will be their first experience in handling ration coupons.

To assist both the butcher and the consumer, charts are now being prepared by meat experts, which will be distributed in advance of the rationing date to every store in Canada handling meat. The charts will show exactly how much of every cut of rationed meat a weekly coupon is worth. It gives the answers, and the butcher will be expected to apply the theory of the chart to the meat sold in his store.

The butcher is the man who knows how useful the unrated meats can be too, and will be able to make valuable suggestions to his customers regarding the use of "fancy" meats, fish and poultry as "off-the-ration" foods.

Wholesale meat salesmen, commercial travellers, nutritionists, the press, home economists, radio, and movies, will all be helping explain meat rationing during the next few weeks.

MORE THAN ELEVEN MILLION BOUGHT BY RAILWAY COMPANY

MONTREAL—As a company, the Canadian National System subscribed $11,005,100 to the Fourth Victory Loan, which includes subscriptions for systems insurance funds. With the addition of employees' purchases, the total from Canadian National sources was $19,124,900.

A single bicycle tire and tube give enough rubber for the insulation of six army radio sets.

Labor Minister Issues Second Order On Compulsory Employ-

The Hon. Mr. Mitchell, labor minister in the Federal government, has now issued his second order on compulsory employment, and a copy regarding this order appears in this issue.

Mr. Mitchell says this will make available, for transfer to more essential employment, men in the age groups designated.

The second order reads as follows:—Any occupation in or association with retail stores, manufacturing of feathers, plumes and artificial flowers, chewing gum, wine, lace goods, greeting cards, jewelry, distilling alcohol, factory production of statuary and art goods operation of ice cream parlors and soda fountains, bus boys, charmen, cleaners, custom furriers, dancing teachers, dish washers, doormen and starters, green keepers, ground keepers, porters.

After June 15, no employer may legally employ any man subject to mobilization regulations except under special selective service permit. The men employed in these industries must register at an employment and selective service office not later than June 15. If firm or other essential employment is not immediate, they will be given permits to continue at their present jobs, although these permits may be cancelled at any time when the men's services are needed for high priority jobs.

Mr. Mitchell points out that the order covers every man born in any year from 1917 to 1924, every man born from 1902 to 1916, who at July 5, 1940, was unmarried, a widower without child or children.

Under the regulations a man has a right of appeal to a court of referees, if he objects to being transferred. "At the present time," Hon. Mr. Mitchell states, "men in employment declared to be non-essential by the first order issued May 4 are still registering at the Employment and Selective Service Offices. All of those men must register by May 19. I would again point out that these orders impose obligations both on employers and employees. After May 19 in the case of occupations in the first order, and after June 15 in the case of the second order, it will be illegal for an employer to continue to employ or to engage any man in a class designated under mobilization regulations, unless under special permit. On the other hand, the men affected must register by the dates specified.

Men under the first order include taverns, liquor, wine and beer stores, retail sale of candy, confectionery, to bacco, books, stationery, news, barber shops and beauty parlors, retail and wholesale florists, service stations, retail sale of motor vehicles and accessories, retail sale of sporting goods or musical instruments, waiter, taxi driver, elevator operator, hotel bell boy domestic servant, any occupation in or directly associated with entertainment, including but not restricted to theatre, film agencies, motion picture companies, clubs, bowling alleys, pool rooms, any occupation in or directly associated with dyeing, cleaning and pressing (not including laundry work) baths, guide service, shoe shining.

With the premier at the time of his death were his wife and their two daughters—Mrs. Chas. McNutt and Mrs. Jas. Cooper, both of Vancouver.

It is expected that a memorial service will be held in Edmonton on Sunday next at the legislative building grounds, at which all official and public organizations will be represented.

Price Ceiling Set Live Poultry Sales

OTTAWA—The Prices Board on Saturday announced the foods administration has placed wholesale and retail price ceilings on live poultry.

In each province the maximum prices at which live birds may be sold are related to the prices of corresponding kinds of dressed poultry.

The maximum wholesale price during June of live hens of more than five pounds will be 23 cents a pound in Ontario, Quebec and British Columbia; 21 cents in Manitoba and Alberta; 20 1/2 cents in Saskatchewan, and 23 1/2 cents in the Maritime provinces.

Butchers School Teaches Cutting

H. Hammond, meat officer with the Wartime Prices and Trade Board conducted school for over 400 butchers in Edmonton and district last week, demonstrating cutting in accordance with meat rationing regulations. Similar classes will be conducted throughout the province to enable butchers to meet rationing requirements. Mr. Hammond recently attended classes in instruction for all meat officers of the Prices Board in Toronto under direction of V. C. Davis, meat expert with the Board.

Canning Sugar Coupons Coming

Canning sugar coupons will be in the mails about the first of June, and ration board officials state, and ration board officials are preparing the coupon cards or mailing.

Five coupons are attached to each card, each good for the purchase of five pounds of sugar. For small families of two where only 20 pounds will be allotted one coupon will be detached before mailing. In large families where 40 or 50 pounds are allotted, two cards will be enclosed containing coupons to the value of the amount stated.

First two coupons become effective in June, the third in July, the fourth in August and the fifth in September. All coupons expire September 31, 1943, and any coupons lost or destroyed will not be replaced, officials state.

HOW NOT TO WRITE A LETTER

Remember the old letter-writing books one used to read? The ones which gave stilted phrases to cover any imaginable contingency from a letter to the President to a proposal of marriage. Their impossible, if wordy, dictation was something that the aspiring job-seeker or the bashful avian might have found useful, but as letters—as a message to a loved one, they had as much personality and life as the quarterly report of an insurance company.

Letter-writing is not an art, and the more "arty" it becomes the less readable it is. To write an interesting letter to a soldier—or a sailor, the first thing to do is to forget about such things as grammar or the correct formal etiquette of letter-writing.

Write your letter just as if the recipient was sitting across the table and you were conversing with him.
Remember that the trivial things are apt to be the most interesting. Read your weekly, home-town newspaper and see what the editor features, to get a line on what is interesting subject matter. Mention the little things —the everyday scenes and occurrences that are so obvious and usual that you don't really think he will be interested—Don't worry, he will! For a homesick boy overseas, every new springing blade of grass on his own street is a matter of poignant interest.

Tell him all the gossip you can think of—who married whom, and

MEAT RATION CALLS FOR LITTLE SACRIFICE

Heavy meat eaters will not like the coming rationing of their favorite main dinner course. Those whose gastronomical cravings run in other directions will not likely be inconvenienced by their two coupon a week meat limitation. As for the vegetarians they will welcome gladly a restriction calculated to increase the number of converts to their eating habit.

As a matter of fact, with certain classes of meat still rationed and the low limit for the rationed sorts making possible a fairly decent choice of varieties up to a two pound a week maximum per person, there will be little legitimate ground for any individual complaint. Not that there will not be, however.

So used have we become to having what we want, when we want it and as much of it as we want in the matter of food that many look upon such a state of affairs as their appetite right. Even if such a conception, cattered to, were not physically injurious.

NATIONAL SELECTIVE SERVICE

Freedom's Fires Must Be Fed Our COAL!

CANADIANS must dig and deliver coal that we may sell convoys, power vital war plants, keep our railroads rolling, preserve the nation's health!

The coal mining industry—miners and management alike—have done wonders to provide coal, but they need help.
More workers must be provided, or we falter—possibly fall—in this grim hour. Nature has been generous but we must help ourselves. Our mines are rich, but undermanned.
By Proclamation, His Excellency the Governor General in Council has declared that labour supply for coal mines ranks as a national emergency. Further, in order to provide manpower for coal, the Governor in Council has issued an Order in Council aimed at swelling the flow of coal from mine to firepot.

This Order is of vital interest to everyone in Canada. Every Canadian should read and study its provisions, to see whether it demands any action on his part:

- 1 EVERY EMPLOYER, REGARDLESS OF HIS INDUSTRY, must advise his employees of these Regulations, and he must assist in discovering whether any of his employees have had previous experience as coal mine workers.
- 2 EVERY EMPLOYEE, REGARDLESS OF HIS INDUSTRY, who has had previous experience as a coal mine worker, must report that fact to his employer not later than Tuesday, May 25th, 1943.
- 3 A "COAL MINE WORKER" FOR THESE PURPOSES is anyone who, since January 1st, 1935, has worked under provincial certificate or license in or around a coal mine, or who, since the same date, has been employed for a total of at least 24 months in the production of coal (except at office work).
- 4 EVERY EMPLOYER, NOT A COAL MINE OPERATOR, must report in writing to a Selective Service Officer not later than Tuesday, June 1st, 1943, full details on any of his employees who are ex-coal mine workers.
- 5 SELECTIVE SERVICE OFFICERS ARE AUTHORIZED to require ex-coal mine workers to report for interview and to accept work at a coal mine.
- 6 SELECTIVE SERVICE OFFICERS MAY REQUIRE any man in any employment, if subject to Mobilization Regulations but rejected for Military Training, and certain others excused from Military Training, to accept employment at a coal mine.
- 7 NO COAL MINE OPERATOR may terminate the services of any coal mine worker without written permission from a Selective Service Officer.
- 8 NO COAL MINE WORKER may leave employment at a coal mine without written permission from a Selective Service Officer.
- 9 EVERY EX-COAL MINE WORKER, returning to the industry under these Regulations, will be paid wages at the established rate for the job at which he is placed; and the Government will pay wages of 40 cents an hour, 8 hours a day and 48 hours a week, to any ex-coal mine worker required to leave his present employment under these provisions, but not placed immediately at coal mining.
- 10 A BOARD ALLOWANCE of not more than $7.50 a week may be paid an ex-coal mine worker now returning to a coal mine, if required to live away from the residence of his dependents.
- 11 PRESENT AND FUTURE COAL MINE WORKERS will be granted postponement from Military Training to February 1st, 1944, by virtue of their occupation; and no coal mine worker will be accepted for voluntary enlistment in the Armed Forces of Canada prior to February 1st, 1944, except under permit to enlist from a Selective Service Officer.
- 12 NO EMPLOYER IN CANADA, EXCEPT A COAL MINE OPERATOR, may solicit for employment or hire any ex-coal mine worker.
- 13 REGARDLESS OF ANY DOMINION OR PROVINCIAL LAW, male persons at least 16 years old may be employed as coal mine workers, and female persons at least 18 years old may be employed as surface coal mine workers.
- 14 WAR EMERGENCY TRAINING CLASSES will be available for training men as coal mine workers.

Such is the substance of the new regulations. Full details may be had at any Employment and Selective Service Office. If these provisions require action on your part, you are urged in the national interest to act immediately. Severe penalties are provided for non-compliance, but the Government relies on the co-operation of the citizens of Canada to make prosecution unnecessary by prompt action as required. This is a grave emergency. Assist if you can.

Borrowing for War Farming

Farmers all over Canada—grain growers, stock raisers, dairymen, fruit growers, vegetable gardeners, poultrymen—all kinds of farmers—are forcing production, fighting hard early and late to supply the enormous quantities of products demanded in the greatest of all wars.

In this "survival war" food plays a tremendous part, and the farmer is the dependable supplier, to whom armed forces and civilians alike must look. The extra demands on farm production mean extra financing. The Bank of Montreal, ready always to co-operate with agriculture, is making special efforts at this time to help the farmer produce food for Canada and the United Nations.

If you need to borrow, see our nearest branch manager, who will understand your problems.

FARM NOTES

WHEN SHOULD HEDGES BE PRUNED?

In pruning hedges some definite purposes should be kept in mind. In order to develop a dense, compact growth of plants pruning must be practised as soon as hedge plants are set out. At that time the plants should be cut back to a uniform height of six to twelve inches depending on the age and size of the material planted, says John Walker, Superintendent, Dominion Forest Nursery Station, Indian Head, Sask.

At the beginning of the second year of growth the hedge plants should be cut back to a height of 12 to 24 inches, and in the third year the hedge may be left at a height of 24 to 36 inches.

Strong-growing plants like Common Caragana, Common Lilac, Tatarian Honey-suckle, Dwarf Asiatic Elm and European Elder usually require more severe, and likewise more careful, foundation pruning than weaker-growing plants like Spiraea, Japanese Barberry, Caragana Pygmaea, Usurian Cherry and Snowberry.

The time of pruning to keep the growth of hedges neat and tidy, is governed by the amount and rapidity of growth made by the hedge plants. Pruning should be done when necessary, strong growing plants requiring to be pruned more often than weaker-growing plants. Plants of a straggling habit of growth like the Amur Maple need more frequent pruning than compact growing types like Caragana Pygmaea or Cotoneaster.

The approximate time to start pruning is from the beginning to the middle of June for broadleaf plants, and around mid-July or later for evergreen plants. Light additional pruning should be practised as required.

To promote and maintain uniformly healthy growth from the top to the bottom of hedges should be wider near the ground than at the top to permit the greatest possible use of sunshine. Hedges narrow at the top also suffer least from snow crush in winter.

Pruning hedge plants for this purpose should be practised as early in the season as possible to permit them to develop healthy green leaves on every branch and twig, otherwise the greatest development will take place towards the top at the expense of the remainder.

Finally, planters should remember that in gardens and home-surroundings where the landscape design is chiefly naturalistic or informal, hedge plants should also develop in their natural state as far as possible. Severe and formal pruning is somewhat out of place in such a setting.

Planters should choose hedge plants having a natural habit, rate of growth, and ultimate size suitable for the purpose for which the hedge is to be planted (shelter, screen, dividing line or ornament) without the necessity of much pruning. If this choice is carefully made hedges will be attractive not only because of their trim and neat appearance, but also because of the blossoms and fruits they produce.

EARLY SUMMERFALLOW

Seeding will soon be completed and the farmer will have a short breathing spell from the arduous task of sowing his crops, particularly arduous and difficult this year because of lack of labour. If it can possibly be done, however, it certainly would be wise for those farmers who have land which is to be summerfallowed to do the work as quickly as possible. Land summerfallowed towards the end of May conserves much more moisture than summerfallow done later in the year. First, the weather is cooler in May, and so less precious moisture is lost by evaporation when the land is ploughed or cultivated, and secondly, early summerfallow gives a longer period during the summer for the soil to accumulate the summer rains which form the foundation for next year's crops.

The thought has been expressed that we may now be in a cycle of wet years, and that the preservation of moisture, therefore, does not matter so much. This, I suggest, is an entirely wrong view to take. The records of sixty past years clearly reveal that one or two drought years can occur at any time. No one can forecast the coming of either wet or dry years.

ITEMS OF INTEREST IN THE WORLD OF FOODSTUFFS

Argentine corn losses are officially estimated at 60%, with yields ranging from 4½ to 13½ bushels per acre. The German loaf is now said to be 72% rye, 24% barley and 4% potato flour, according to the British Minister of Agriculture. The wheat has been used since Feb. 1st. Broom hall reports famine conditions prevail over 70,000 square miles in the Honan Province of China.

Turkey and Spain both report better crops than last year. The U.S. War Production Board will allow farm machinery production to be increased from 23 to 40 percent of the 1941 level.

HEALTH

A HEALTH SERVICE OF THE CANADIAN MEDICAL ASSOCIATION AND LIFE INSURANCE COMPANIES IN CANADA

"V" FOR VEGETABLES

"Grow the fighting foods at home; It's a job we all can do. The 'freer' foods will do you good. And you'll help your country, too!" That jingle may not be the last word in poetry—but it's sound advice reprinted from a Victory Garden poster designed by nutrition and gardening experts for the Health League of Canada. Never before have vegetables in your own back garden meant so much to Canada—and to your health.

Gardening is patriotic. Government authorities say that supplies of certain commercially grown vegetables will be limited this year. Manpower and transportation are twin headaches. Large quantities of canned vegetables are being sent overseas to our men in uniform and the people of the United Kingdom. All of which means that we should grow our own vegetables if we want to make sure of an adequate supply. By so doing, we will release valuable man hours for more essential purposes.

Gardening is fun. Once gardening gets into your blood it's there to stay. Not only is it a hobby packed full of interest but it contributes to your sense of health and well-being. The fresh air of the out-of-doors and the healthy exercise are of great value, particularly to the man who sits at an office desk all day.

Vegetables you can grow at home—carrots, spinach, peas and tomatoes, are loaded with vitamins and minerals which will give you energy. Besides these you can try your hand at cabbage, beans, onions, leaf lettuce. Interested? You can get additional information from your Federal or provincial agriculture departments.

Let's make our slogan this spring: "Vegetables for Victory!"

TRAINING IN EATING

As children grow out of babyhood they enter a very important period in their lives, the one in which they acquire both the social and personal habit necessary to adult civilized life. Among other things to be learned at this time is the habit of eating the proper foods.

As every mother knows, this is sometimes a major problem. It should be approached with patience and ingenuity for it must be solved if the child is to grow up strong and healthy.

Two simple rules should always be observed. First, there should be no discussion among the parents and older children at the table, or in the presence of the child, of personal likes or dislikes in the matter of food. Second, as the child becomes interested in his food he should be told why each item is good for him.

For the rest—introduce each new food in very small amounts until the child has developed a taste for it. A little difference in flavoring, a few grains of salt, mixing a new food with an accustomed one (as chopped spinach with mashed potato) may make all the difference in the child's reaction.

Some children like hot foods, some cold and a little juggling will sometimes save the mother a lot of worry and the child unnecessary correction.

Garden Pests

Beginners are advised by the Dominion Department of Agriculture to be on special guard against these common pests which threaten our war gardens.

Cutworms are probably the most generally destructive insects found in the vegetable garden. They are of greatest concern when the plants are small. They are gray to brownish caterpillars, which hide in the soil during the day and emerge at night to feed on a wide variety of plants. They usually sever the stems at the soil surface, although some species attack the leaves. Cutworms can be killed by sprinkling poisoned bait about the garden in the late evening.

The cabbage maggot will probably be the next insect to appear. This attacks the roots of such plants as cabbages, cauliflowers and radishes. It is a small, white legless insect that makes its appearance about the middle of May. When the attack is severe, many of the plants wilt and die. Transplants and seedlings can be protected by pouring corrosive sublimate solution around the stems shortly after transplanting.

A near relative to this insect—the onion maggot—is a frequent visitor. It closely resembles the cabbage maggot and works in much the same way. But it only attacks onions, feeding at the base of the stems and causing the young plants to wilt. Covering the onion seed with dry powdered calomel before planting will considerably reduce the amount of injury.

A small, yellow and black striped beetle, known as the striped cucumber beetle, will be an unwelcome visitor in most gardens about the time cucumber plants are getting started. It feeds on young cucumber, squash and melon plants, eating holes in the leaves. It hides in the foliage and frequently escapes detection. Infested plants should be dusted with calcium arsenate and gypsum, mixed one part of the poison to 19 parts of the powder.

In Eastern Canada, young carrots are frequently attacked by a small, whitish maggot which is the young of the carrot rust fly. This maggot is first noted in early June, making rusty-red tunnels in the roots. Injured seedlings wilt and die. By delaying planting until early June, most of the carrot rust flies will have disappeared before the young seedlings come up.

The commonest enemy of the potato is the potato bug or Colorado beetle. It is an annual visitor frequently to be seen on the surface of the ground even before the potatoes have broken through the soil. Spraying or dusting the vines with an arsenical such as calcium arsenate or lead arsenate fortunately will kill most of the beetles, as well as the young grubs on the leaves.

Weed Control
In the flower and vegetable garden cultivation is the best method of controlling weeds. After first digging the garden it is well to let it rest for a few days to encourage weed seeds to sprout, then one thorough cultivation will dispose of an enormous number of these enemies. But it will not kill all because some seed will lie for weeks before germinating. Experts advise regular cultivations at weekly or ten-day intervals, to cope with them. So long as the weeds are not permitted to go to seed, cutting them off with a sharp cultivator and allowing them to rot or be buried where they fall is the best plan. If, however, some reach the stage where they have flowered and are setting seed before the cultivation starts, then they should be cut or pulled and burned.

Alberta Co-operatives Now Over 200

Two hundred and one co-operatives were active in Alberta at the end of April, reports F. J. Fitzpatrick, acting supervisor of the co-operative activities branch of the provincial government.

Of this total, 72 were stores; 29 dealt with farm supplies; 42 were livestock marketing associations; 18 were livestock feeders; 15 were dealing in dairy and poultry products, and 25 with miscellaneous items. Seven "co-ops" have been formed since the beginning of the year.

Annual figures for the larger Co-op stores, just released, shows an increase of $520,809 in business in 1942 over 1941, for 16 stores. The 1942 sales for the stores amounted to $2,000,534.51.

Tabulations to date show that 90 Co-ops in 1942 did $3,138,196 more business than was done in 1941 by 119 stores. Although the figures are not yet completed, the 90 stores reporting did a business of $16,778,164 last year.

WOMEN'S WORK IN WARTIME ENGLAND

The way the women of England are all working cannot but arouse the admiration of everyone. They are not only working in factories, or in the women's division of the armed forces, but they are acting as clerks in offices, banks, hotels, and stores, as bellboys, porters, guards on the railways, fire watchers, ticket collectors or conductors on trams and buses, farm labourers, and even policemen.

In America there is only one man in charge of a bus, and he collects tickets or fares, and acts both as chauffeur and conductor. In England all the buses are built so that the chauffeur sits in a little compartment by himself, almost over the engine. If he were to collect the fares, the buses would all have to be rebuilt. The ticket collectors are all women, and so are many of the drivers.

In the cities omnibuses have replaced trams years ago in most cases. Nearly all the conductors are women, and it is very hard work. Such a thing as paying the fare when entering a bus or tram is apparently unknown over there. They do not have a flat fare of two pence or three pence, but a graduated rate which may be anything from one penny up through all the halfpence to six or seven pence.

This means that the women have to find out where you are going, calculate the fare, select the proper ticket from a large double bank of tickets which they carry on a holder, make change, and go through both decks of the bus, which means running continuously up and down stairs. Usually the bus is crowded, which makes it that much more difficult for them. With so many strangers in England, they have to keep answering such questions as how to reach different points. They also have to watch where they are, call out the stops, signal to start and stop the bus and make sure that some stranger does not go past his or her destination. The women on buses really work hard.

A large number of women are doing fire watching duties. This usually means staying up all night and patrolling roofs and alleys. When a Canadian looks over the skyline of English towns and cities, the first thing that strikes him is the appearance of the English roofs which are usually cut up with all kinds of turrets and chimneys pots. They add considerably to the difficulties of properly patrolling the roofs. Ladders are often kept on the roofs so that any part can be quickly reached.

This work is most important during raids. Prompt handling of incendiaries on these roofs makes the difference between little damage and staggering losses.

About the time that the Bomber Press arrived in England, the Hon. Herbert Morrison made an appeal for many thousands of extra women fire watchers. There was a great deal of criticism at the time, as it was felt that this work was too hard and dangerous for women. But the answer was that more than double the number asked for volunteered. It showed the determination of the women of England to do everything they could to help in war work.

The following appeal appeared in the September issue of the parish magazine of St. Mary Redcliffe Church, Bristol. "Without question the greatest material treasure in Bristol is St. Mary Redcliffe Church. I now ask the women of Bristol if they will help in guarding it against fire. We want two, at least, and three better still, to be on duty every night. There is perfectly possible work for women to do, and they will not be asked to attempt what only men can do. Women between 17 and 50 will be welcomed, and if you arrange with a friend or friends to take on one night a week, you will be doing great service. Now is the time to strengthen our band of watchers before the winter begins."

It must be remembered that in all probability, the women who take on this work will do it in addition to working at their regular occupation all day.

At all the Air Force stations that we visited there were WAAF's doing the cooking, washing the dishes, waiting on table, operating the telephone and radio controls, and doing clerical and other work.

Women appear to be doing everything on the railways except driving the engines. Most of the guards at the stations are women, and they may also be seen handling trucks with express and baggage. Incidentally, the traveller in England today is expected to look after his own baggage, not only while on trains, but at so in the hotels.

The mobile canteens, so many of which have been provided by various organizations and municipalities in Canada, South Africa, Australia and other parts of the British Commonwealth, are operated by women, and their heroism during each blitz will make a glorious story in history.

The nursing profession has always been an honoured one, and the nurses in this war are upholding all their traditions. It would be impossible to tell of all the varied jobs that women in England are doing today in addition to those mentioned already, such as looking after babies while their mothers are working in munition factories and other places, collecting salvage, helping in canteens and soldiers' hostels, and, if unable to do anything else, entertaining troops in their own homes.

The outstanding characteristics of the women of England today are

NEW ALL-PURPOSE GRIND AND NEW BREWING METHODS STRETCH COFFEE RATIONS

Since coffee rationing, many shoppers have had difficulty finding decaffeinated coffee in the type of grind they have been accustomed to using. To solve this wartime problem all brands of decaffeinated coffee from now on will be manufactured in a new all-purpose grind which is designed to fit the requirements of any coffee-making apparatus. The all-purpose grind takes less coffee than the regular grind. A rounded tablespoon of all-purpose grind for each standard measuring cup (eight ounces) of water are the proportions most people prefer.

Here are some other practical wartime tips on making the family supply of decaffeinated coffee stretch a little farther. If you use a vacuum type pot, keep the decaffeinated coffee in the upper compartment an extra three minutes—five or six minutes in all. If you use a percolator, perk the decaffeinated brew very slowly and gently for about eighteen minutes.

Sweet Dreams Brew

Use a rounded tablespoon of all-purpose grind decaffeinated coffee to every cup (½ pint) water. Make by boiled or percolated method. (If percolated, perk 15 to 20 minutes, slowly and gently, or longer than ordinary coffee, to bring out its full, rich coffee flavor.) When serving, pour milk and coffee together into cup in equal amounts. Flipping hot decaffeinated coffee is a good antidote for wartime nerves. Even a demi-tasse will do wonders in helping everyone to relax. If you use a vacuum coffee pot, leave the coffee in the upper compartment for 5 or 6 minutes instead of the usual 3 or 4 to get the maximum strength.

CHOOSE ONE—IT'S GOOD

Honey-Orange Cake
 ½ cup shortening
 ½ cup honey
 2 cups all-purpose flour
 ½ teaspoon soda
 ½ cup finely shredded orange peel (3 or 4 oranges)
 ½ cup sugar
 1 egg, well beaten
 2 teaspoons baking powder
 ¼ teaspoon salt
 ½ cup orange juice
 1 teaspoon grated lemon peel Cream shortening. Add sugar gradually; add honey, creaming constantly. Beat in egg. Sift dry ingredients thoroughly (flour, soda, baking powder, salt); add orange peel and lemon peel. Combine dry ingredients and orange juice alternately to creamed mixture. Spread in well-greased cake pan. (Mixture is quite thick.) Bake at 350 deg. F. for about 45 minutes. Serve plain, iced, or with hot fruit sauce.

Cottage Cheese-Peanut Salad

1 cup cottage cheese
 ½ cup salted peanuts, coarsely chopped
 1 teaspoon minced onion
 1 tablespoon minced green pepper
 Salt and black pepper to taste
 Mayonnaise to moisten
 Mix all ingredients together. Use as a sandwich spread; as a salad, stuffed into whole cored tomatoes, or in balls on lettuce; and as an appetizer spread on whole wheat wafers, or in celery, or stuff green pepper, chill and slice. Use as a salad.

Steamed Fresh Asparagus in Sauce

2 pounds asparagus
 4 tablespoons flour
 4 tablespoons butter or margarine
 1 teaspoon salt
 Dash of Worcestershire sauce
 4 hard-boiled eggs
 2 teaspoons lemon juice
 2½ cups milk
 Wash asparagus well. Cut scales from base. Break off woody ends. Steam whole in small amount of water until tender, for 15 to 20 minutes; or cut in pieces, cook stalks 10 minutes, then add tips and cook 5 to 10 minutes longer. Make sauce out of flour, butter, salt, and milk. Put hard-boiled eggs through a sieve. Add Worcestershire Sauce and lemon juice.

Raisin and Carrot Casserole

½ cup seedless raisins
 4 cups shredded raw carrots
 ½ teaspoon salt
 4 tablespoons butter
 Pepper
 Rinse raisins in hot water, mix with carrots and place in greased casserole; dot with butter and sprinkle with salt and pepper. Cover dish and bake about 1 hour in moderate oven (350 deg. F.). Serves 4.

Assembly Line Special

¼ cup mayonnaise
 ¼ teaspoon prepared mustard
 ¼ teaspoon horseradish
 ½ cup chopped bologna or cooked frankfurter
 Lettuce
 Combine ingredients. Use for sandwich spread. Add a leaf of lettuce for crispness.

70,000 Car Owners Get New Licenses

More than 70,000 car owners in Alberta already have taken out passenger car licenses for the present year that opened April 1, according to information received by the Alberta Motor Association from the provincial secretary's department.

The number is short of the total at this time last year, but the showing is surprisingly good, in the opinion of government officials, in view of wartime restrictions on gasoline and tires.

With the advent of the summer holiday period, it is anticipated that the license total will be materially increased. Greater demands on the use of cars for essential business purposes also should serve to swell the license total. Officials believe that the year's total still will come within striking distance of the 90,000 total for the previous year.

Of the 70,000 car owners who have been issued "AA" ration coupons, it is believed that approximately one-third, or 22,000, have been issued special category ration books. These books are issued by the regional oil controller for essential driving purposes.

Meat Saved Tuesday Stocks Battleship

OTTAWA—Canada's first Meatless Tuesday is estimated to have saved 350,000 pounds of meat, or sufficient to stock a large battleship for five months at sea, according to an official of the Wartime Prices and Trade Board. Meatless Tuesdays throughout the year are expected to save 20,000,000 pounds of meat for vital purposes.

By cutting consumption of meat, Canada ensures sufficient supplies for her sons in the armed forces in Great Britain as well as the British civilian population.

NATIONAL SELECTIVE SERVICE

Second Compulsory Employment Transfer Order

Notice to Certain Employers and Employees that men in specified lines of civilian employment, in classes already designated under National Selective Service Mobilization Regulations, must report for interview not later than June 15th, 1943, at an Employment and Selective Service Office.

A. Objective: This Second Order makes available for essential employment the service of men in classes already designated under National Selective Service Mobilization Regulations, who are now employed in specified non-essential employments.

B. EMPLOYMENTS COVERED BY THIS ORDER: Men, of the specified categories, are covered if now employed at:

(1) Any occupation in or associated with retail stores; (2) any occupation in or associated with the manufacturing of feathers, plumes and artificial flowers; (3) any occupation in or associated with the production of stationary and art goods; (4) any occupation in the operation of ice cream parlours and soda fountains; (5) any of the following occupations: bar boys; charwomen and cleaners; custom surveyors; dancing teachers; disk jockeys; doormen and starters; green keepers; grounds keepers; porters (other than in railway train service); private chauffeurs.

C. AGE AND MARITAL CLASSES OF MEN COVERED BY THIS ORDER: (a) Every man born in any year from 1917 to 1924 (inclusive) who has reached age 19; (b) every man born from 1903 to 1916 (inclusive), who, at July 15, 1940, was unmarried, or divorced or judicially separated, or a widower without child or children; (c) every man born from 1903 to 1916 (inclusive) who has become a widower since July 15, 1940, and is without child or children now living; (d) every man born from 1903 to 1916 (inclusive) who, since July 15, 1940, has been divorced or judicially separated.

D. Procedure to be Followed: All men as defined above must report to an Employment and Selective Service Office not later than June 15th, 1943. Men residing outside a city or town having an Employment and Selective Service Office, too far removed to call personally, may write to the nearest office, and await further directions.

E. OBLIGATIONS OF EMPLOYEES: When directed to accept employment, a man referred to in Paragraphs B and C above is required by the Regulations to follow the direction.

F. OBLIGATIONS OF EMPLOYERS: It will be illegal for an employer to retain in his employ after June 15th, 1943, any man referred to in Paragraphs B and C above, unless a special permit has been obtained from Selective Service.

G. Transportation: Provision will be made for transportation of men moved to a new place of residence.

H. Appeals: If objecting to transfer to other employment, when directed, a man may enter appeal with a Court of Review within 7 days.

I. Penalties: Penalties are provided for either employer or employees, failing to comply with this Order.

Men referred to above must present documents at the employment office, indicating compliance with Mobilization Regulations.

There goes your letter to your boy...

IN IT, you put the home-spun bits of chit-chat you know he wants to hear... and in it you also put your heart. You mailed it with a prayer that it might find him safe and well.

Look—it's already on the way... speeding as fast as railway wheels can carry it.

Those singing wheels carry more—much more—than letters. They carry food for your pantry, coal for your furnace. They roll tirelessly that you may live in comfort. They race across the great stretches of this Dominion with the men and materials of war, so that all of us may live in freedom.

Twenty-four hours a day our railway wheels are rolling, driven by an army of over 150,000 workers serving two major fronts... the home front and the fighting front.

"Keep 'em rolling" is their watchword, whether it's food or fuel, tanks or troops.

Or just your letter to your boy...

MEAT

RATIONING EFFECTIVE THURSDAY, MAY 27th

After midnight May 26th, it is unlawful for a consumer to buy rationed meats and for anyone to sell rationed meats to a consumer except on surrender of valid ration coupons.

WHAT MEATS ARE RATIONED:

Beef, Veal, Pork, Mutton and Lamb.

WHAT MEATS ARE NOT RATIONED:

Poultry and Fish are not rationed. "Fancy" meats such as Heart, Tongue, Liver, Kidneys, Brains, Sweetbreads, and cooked sausages such as Wieners and Bologna are not rationed. Meat cuts containing 50% or more of bone such as spare-ribs, oxtails, and pig feet are not rationed.

HOW MUCH RATIONED MEAT AM I PERMITTED TO BUY?

An average of two pounds per week per person. You get less of meats containing no bone and more of meats containing considerable bone. See the chart of coupon values below.

WHAT COUPONS DO I USE WHEN BUYING MEAT?

The brown Spare "A" coupons from your No. 2 ration book—the book you are now using to buy tea, coffee, sugar, and butter.

HOW OFTEN CAN I BUY MEAT?

Two coupons become good each Thursday. The first pair of No. 1 coupons become good May 27th. Each coupon is good for 1/4 of one week's ration.

HOW LONG DO COUPONS REMAIN GOOD?

Coupons becoming good before the 15th of a month are good until the end of that month. Coupons becoming good on or after the 15th of a month are good until the end of the following month.

DO I HAVE TO USE THE TWO COUPONS AT THE SAME TIME OR IN THE SAME STORE?

No. You can use a coupon at any time during the period in which it is valid, and in any store you wish.

CAN I BUY ONLY ONE KIND OF RATIONED MEAT WITH A COUPON?

No. You can buy whatever rationed meat is available and as many kinds as you want providing the coupon value is not exceeded.

MEAT RATIONING AS IT AFFECTS FARMERS

Farmers may slaughter their livestock for their own consumption—but must turn in to the Local Ration Board at the end of each month, 1 coupon for each two pounds of their own slaughtered meat consumed on their own premises. Farmers need in no case surrender more than half the number of each month's valid coupons for such home slaughtered meat.

The remaining half of farmers' meat coupons may be used for ordinary retail purchases of meat, on the basis of coupon values as shown on the chart above.

Farmers may supply meat from their own slaughterings to other farmers for consumption on their own farm premises. Local farmer "Beef Rings" are also permitted. Farmers providing meat to other farmers, or "Beef Rings", must collect meat coupons on the basis of 1 coupon for each two pounds of meat, gross weight. Self-addressed and stamped envelopes for mailing in coupons can be secured at your Local Ration Board.

CONSUMER MEAT IN LOCKERS

Before June 30th all consumers (including farmers) who store meat in lockers must declare in writing to the nearest Branch of the Ration Administration, the quantity of rationed meat they have in storage over and above eight pounds per person in the household. Declarations must be accompanied by sufficient coupons from the ration books of the locker holder and his household, to cover the quantity of declared stored meat at the rate of 1 coupon for each two pounds of any meat in the above groups.

The number of coupons to be detached by the locker user need not exceed more than 50% of the total meat coupons in the possession of himself and his household. Locker users may retain for retail purchasing one of each similarly numbered pair of coupons.

NOTICE TO THE MEAT TRADE

Retailers of meat must collect coupons for any rationed meats sold on or after May 27th. They need not turn in coupons to their suppliers for meat purchased up until June 10th. This arrangement is made to enable them to build up stocks. A Special Food Bulletin giving complete details of meat rationing is being mailed to all food stores.

BORN—To Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Dallyn, of Ribstone, at the Wainwright municipal hospital on May 20th, a girl.

BORN—To Mr. and Mrs. G. Christopherson, of Wainwright, at the Wainwright municipal hospital on May 20th, a boy (stillborn).

After a couple of days spent here with Mrs. Brunker, Harold Brunker returned to his military guard duties at neu Deur on Monday.

Miss Helen Clifton, a former resident of our town, was over from Lloydminster for a couple of days at the week end with friends and relatives.

The local V.V.K.'s are sure to be congratulated on the success of their marking in the provincial 7-man shooting competition, they having won the grand aggregate in the 1942-43 competition, should be a dangerous bunch of boys for that Hitler guy to run into!

Miss Lorraine Wilson spent last week end visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Sam Wilson in town, before returning to her duties at Red Deer on Tuesday morning.

We learn that Marshall Jackson has left for his new employment driving a truck on the Alaska highway project.

Mr. H. P. Thoreson, formerly principal of the public school here, has been appointed as alternative service officer with headquarters in Edmonton for the handling of conscientious objectors to military service.

Mr. Dick McCann left for the city last week end following his release from the hospital here.

Quite a number of local kiddies saw the special show at the Elite theatre on Saturday morning as a reward for the gathering of greases and fats for the war effort.

Mr. and Mrs. Minot McLeod left on Tuesday morning to spend a few days in Edmonton on business.

The May Day dance sponsored by the C.W.L. at the auditorium on Monday evening saw a big crowd thoroughly enjoy the affair.

Mrs. G. Turnbull and Mrs. Bouck of Heath were visitors to relatives at Carstairs last week.

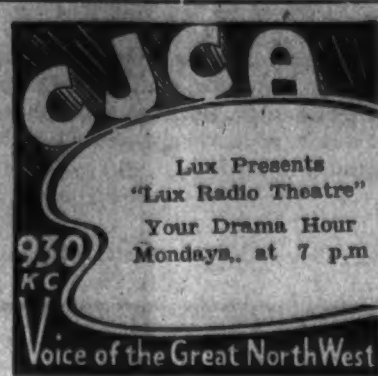

Mr. Phil Pon and son made a trip to the city for a couple of days last week on business.

Among the Edmonton trippers last week were Mrs. J. Telford and Mrs. W. Huntingford.

On Sunday morning last Mr. and Mrs. Tom Lissimore left to spend their annual vacation with relatives and friends in Vancouver and Victoria, B.C.

Mrs. Bert Williamson, of Leduc, is in town visiting relatives.

Good news for the housewives! The canning sugar ration coupons are going into the mails this week end—in fact just as quickly as it is possible to issue them. Between six and seven thousand of these have to be addressed—quite a job for the local ration officials!
